A 76 year old Lincoln man was shot in the arm when he resisted a bandit Friday night during a robbery at an O Street liquor store. Lincoln police picked up a 30 year old suspect in the holdup shooting minutes afterwards.

Police said the wounded man William Neylon, 2644 A, identified the suspect as the gunman before Neylon was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Hospital officials reported that Neylon was in good condition.

Suspect Murr

The apprehended suspect picked up by officers at 21st and O after a series of rapid walkie talkie and radio communications refused to talk to police.

The man was jailed on an open charge.

Police Capt. Robert Sawdon in charge of the investigation said the man 110 in Minnesota has a long police record.

According to officers Neylon was working alone in Baiocch's Liquor, 2365 O, when the gunman entered the store shortly before 8:30 p.m.

Brandished Gun

Dressed in a trench coat and small brimmed hat, the man asked Neylon for a pint of whiskey. When Neylon opened the cash register the gunman brandished a 22 pistol.

Neylon said that when the bandit told him to put the money in a sack, "I told him to go to hell." The gunman then reached for the cash lying open in the cash drawer and Neylon grabbed him. What Neylon described to police as a "long-nosed revolver" was still leveled across the counter at him.

Police said they think the gunman then fired twice. (Continued on Page 3, Col 1)

Bacteria Counts Of Ungraded Milk 'Alarming' Says Dairy Bureau Head

By GLENN KREUZSCHER
Farm Editor

"An alarming number of inspections made on ungraded milk sold in Nebraska show well above the bacteria limits set by the Department of Agriculture," Gould Flagg, dairy bureau chief for the department, said Friday.

Records in Flagg's office show that whereas the state allows a bacteria count on Grade A milk of 30,000, the ungraded dairy products are showing counts up to 3,400,000 in ungraded raw fluid milk and up to 8,000,000 in unlabeled cream sold to the public.

Those bacteria counts are made before the milk is pasteurized.

For tests made after pasteurization, which measure bacteria picked up from equipment and handling, Flagg's records show counts of more than 1,000 on ungraded milk, whereas Grade A milk must be 10 or less.

Grade A Best In Nation

"Nebraska has dozens of safeguards for Grade A milk. In my humble opinion we have some of the best Grade A milk in the nation," said Flagg.

On the Grade A milk the producing dairy herd is inspected once each six months by the Department of Agriculture with 4 samples of raw milk taken on each visit. In addition a bacteria count is maintained by the processor with most of the Grade A herds under supervision of fieldmen employed by the processor or hauler, said Flagg.

Flagg explained that for dairy herds furnishing ungraded milk there was no required inspection of the dairy farm.

Ungraded milk is sold outside the city limits and in many outstate communities, according to dairymen.

Law Ruled Out

A Nebraska law that required ungraded milk to be labeled was defeated in the courts, Flagg noted.

In supreme court ruling on previous milk laws July 15, 1960, in the case of Lincoln Dairy Co v Pearlle Fingan, Director of Agriculture, the court said, "We do hold that the legislative right to regulate does not authorize the Legislature to prohibit the sale of a food product which is wholesome, nutritious, healthful, and fit for human consumption."

"If milk isn't controlled it can't be guaranteed as wholesome," said Flagg.

Another objection raised by dairy spokesmen and Parent Teacher Assn members has been the processing of Grade A milk must be 10 or less.

The American position as to who started the new trouble in Laos is squarely opposed to the Soviet view. Kennedy made clear in his Wednesday news conference that the United States blamed Pathet Lao troops for reopening the fighting.

Western officials held out little hope that the new proposals—still a closely guarded secret—would meet with any favorable reaction from Khrushchev.

The proposals were delivered by the U.S. and British ambassadors in Moscow in the form of a message to Khrushchev from President Kennedy and Prime Minister MacMillan of Britain.

Tsarapkin's denunciation was regarded by West ern sources as the probable forerunner to a flat rejection of the proposals by Khrushchev.

The Soviet ambassador did not specifically refer to the Western suggestions. But he seemed to imply that the Russians did not regard them as a step toward breaking the test ban deadlock.

Only 48 hours after new Western test ban proposals were presented to Khrushchev, Soviet Ambassador Semion K. Tsarapkin launched a scathing condemnation of the Western powers. He accused them of deliberately trying to sabotage the conference.

"Once again we are in an impasse, with no move forward," he declared.

A 76-year-old Lincoln man was shot in the arm when he resisted a bandit Friday night during a robbery at an O Street liquor store.

Lincoln police picked up a 36-year-old suspect in the holdup shooting minutes afterwards.

Police said the wounded man, William Neylon, 2644 A, identified the suspect as the gunman before Neylon was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Hospital officials reported that Neylon was in good condition.

The apprehended suspect, picked up by officers at 21st and O after a series of rapid walkie-talkie and radio communications, refused to talk to police.

The man was jailed on an open charge.

Police Capt. Robert Sawdon, in charge of the investigation, said the man, from Minnesota, has a long police record.

According to officers, Neylon was working alone in Baroch's Liquor, 2365 O, when the gunman entered the store shortly before 8:30 p.m.

Dressed in a trench coat and small-brimmed hat, the man asked Neylon for a pint of whiskey. When Neylon opened the cash register, the gunman brandished a .22 pistol.

Neylon said that when the bandit told him to put the money in a sack, "I told him to go to hell."

The gunman then reached for the cash lying open in the cash drawer and Neylon grabbed him. What Neylon described to police as a "long-nosed revolver" was still leveled across the counter at him.

Police said they think the gunman then fired twice. One shot entered Neylon's left arm below the wrist and passed diagonally through his arm until it exited below the elbow.

The other shot went into the cash register. Officers dug the slug from the cash drawer. It was identified as a .22 processor or handler, said Flagg.

Flagg explained that for dairy herds furnishing ungraded milk there was no required inspection of the dairy farm. "A dairy needs no license to produce ungraded milk and when the bacteria count becomes high, our only recourse is to take the owners into court for selling potentially dangerous high bacteria count milk," said Flagg.

Sale Prohibited in City

A city ordinance in Lincoln prohibits the sale of fluid ungraded milk or its use in cottage cheese. It can, according to law, be used in the manufacturing of ice cream and butter, and is so used by some dairies, the Department of Agriculture acknowledged.

Another objection raised by dairy spokesmen and Parent Teacher Assn. members has been the processing of Grade A milk must be 10 or less.

Grade A Best In Nation

"Nebraska has dozens of safeguards for Grade A milk. In my humble opinion we have some of the best Grade A milk in the nation," said Flagg.

Some subjects undoubtedly discussed were indicated in repeated charges in the Soviet press that the whole new outbreak in Laos was the fault of the Americans.

Russia Pledges Support ... OF LAOS PACT

Moscow (AP) — Premier Khrushchev, in a 3½ hour conference with W. Averell Harriman, pledged the Soviet Union again Friday to support the Geneva agreements for peace and neutrality of Laos.

The agreement of the Soviet Union, jointly with that of the United States, was stated in a communiqué issued after the conference at which the undersecretary of state delivered a personal letter from President Kennedy to the premier.

Key paragraph of the communiqué said simply:

"The President and the chairman of the council of ministers reaffirmed that both governments fully support the general agreement on which there was an exchange of views between them at Vienna (in 1961) and a mutual understanding reached."

Letter

The President's part of the understanding apparently was conveyed in the letter from Kennedy that Harriman delivered to the premier.

Beyond the terse communiqué, not a note of what was discussed between the two came from embassy or Russian sources.

Some subjects undoubtedly discussed were indicated in repeated charges in the Soviet press that the whole new outbreak in Laos was the fault of the Americans.

Invited

The Soviet military newspaper, Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star) said the Americans incited the trouble in Laos in order to make an excuse for direct intervention.

The Soviet news agency Tass went further. In a dispatch from Hanoi it said U.S. officers were leading right-wing Laotian troops into battle against the Communist-led Pathet Lao. Harriman and U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler went into the Kremlin at 3 p.m. (6 a.m. CST) and came out 3½ hours later.

Earlier in the day the two spent two hours and 40 minutes with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko going over essentially the same ground.

GAS-TRIGGERED BLAST CLAIMS 22 MINERS

... Weary Crews Recover All The Bodies From West Virginia Coal Works

Clarksburg, W. Va. (UPI) — The last man was found in the same section where 11 other miners had been discovered earlier Friday in the Compass No. 2 mine of Clinchfield Coal Co. at Dola, about 12 miles northwest of here.

All 22 men were married. They had 41 children. Thirty of their fellow workers fled unharmed after the blast cut loose.

It was a violent thing. Clark Robey, a 54-year-old mechanic, said he was knocked off his feet although he was about a mile away from the blast center.

In Puffs

"The explosion came in two or 3 puffs and the dust started flying," Robey related. "It blew me down, even though I was pretty close to a mile away."

Robey and 3 other miners raced for the cage—the elevator by which the men are hauled up and down the vertical shaft.

"You could hear rocks hitting the side of the cage where the air was blowing them up the shaft," he said.

Passageway

About 9 a.m. Friday the first bodies were found. The two victims were in a main passageway about 1½ miles from the foot of the mine shaft.

Some 30 minutes later a third body was located further down the corridor.

Officials said they believe the men suffocated. There was no evidence of fire.

Rescue crews wearing gas masks then came upon 11

Gunmen Slay 3 Protectors Of Haitian Chief's Children

Atlanta (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, visiting Atlanta on Confederate Memorial Day, praised progress made in Georgia and the South in solving civil rights problems.

He said progress had been made in desegregating schools, transportation and other public facilities in many sections during the past few years and "we are on the right road now."

He urged that moderates throughout the country work together to prevent a rise in extremism on both sides of the racial issue.

Kennedy answered questions at a news conference after a breakfast engagement with Gov. Carl E. Sanders. Kennedy told Sanders Georgia has demonstrated it can handle its own problems and if that continues the state needs "no interference from the federal government."

The attorney general told newsmen he has no plans for offering for the presidency, the vice presidency or as a candidate for governor of Massachusetts.

Asked for comment on the possibility of a revolt by some Southern states against his party, Kennedy said the chances of Alabama and Mississippi going for President John F. Kennedy in 1964 are dim.

Commenting on Georgia, which has always voted democratic, Kennedy said, "the state of Georgia has always shown great wisdom."

Witnesses said the driver of the presidential car and the bodyguards, drawing their guns, slumped as 3 shots rang out. Jean-Claude and Simone ran into the school, and the gunmen rued off in their auto. The witnesses were arrested.

First Sign

The terrorism—the first sign of open, violent defiance against the Duvalier regime in two years—was believed to be a warning to the 56-year-old president to step down May 15, when his first 6-year term of office originally was to expire. Duvalier has revised this Negro republic's constitution and says he will stay in office until 1967. Haitians have been jittery recently amid threats of a revolt timed for May 15.

The militia, steel-helmeted police and tanks moved out quickly after the shooting, blocked streets and checked all traffic. The presidential palace was ringed by troops and tanks guarded the main gate.

Two Motorists

A militia sergeant shot and killed at least two motorists driving past the home of Duvalier's guard chief, Col. Jacques Gracia. In a residential section, militiamen poured gunfire into the home of a suspected army officer.

The sergeant guarding the colonel's home threatened to shoot other motorists unless they cleared the street.

A heavily armed guard later escorted the Duvalier children to the palace from the school, the Methodist B. I. College. They have been attending the college since Duvalier feuded with the Roman Catholic church and

Catholic school.

He suggests that stress be laid first on exploration of the moon by unmanned craft and electronic gear. This, he says, would be far cheaper.

decreasing the total costs and increasing the chance of suc-

The public is being taxed at fairly high rates. It is very doubtful today if old-fashioned public works would be politically feasible. The manned lunar project can be advocated and sold on a basis which is rather difficult for the average citizen to evaluate.

Venezuelan Terrorists Fire U.S. Owned Plant

Caracas, Venezuela (UPI)

Six masked men carrying tommyguns Friday set fire to the U.S.-owned Cordage Hull Company on the outskirts of Caracas. The 3-hour, 6-alarm fire caused $200,000 damage.

Police said the terrorists, identified as members of the outlawed Armed Forces of National Liberation, forced some 50 workers at gunpoint to lay down on the floor while they spread gasoline from cans they carried throughout the premises. They fled when the flames took hold. Two firemen suffered from smoke suffocation fighting the blaze and were taken to hospitals.

GAS-TRIGGERED BLAST CLAIMS 22 MINERS

... Weary Crews Recover All The Bodies From West Virginia Coal Works

Clarksburg, W. Va. (UPI) — Weary rescue crews, laboring deep inside a northern West Virginia coal mine, recovered bodies of all 22 victims of Thursday night's gas-triggered explosion.

The last man was found in the same section where 11 other miners had been discovered earlier Friday in the Compass No. 2 mine of Clinchfield Coal Co. at Dola, about 12 miles northwest of here.

All 22 men were married. They had 41 children. Thirty of their fellow workers fled unharmed after the blast cut loose.

It was a violent thing. Clark Robey, a 54-year-old mechanic, said he was knocked off his feet although he was about a mile away from the blast center.

In Puffs

"The explosion came in two or 3 puffs and the dust started flying," Robey related. "It blew me down, even though I was pretty close to a mile away."

Robey and 3 other miners raced for the cage—the elevator by which the men are hauled up and down the vertical shaft.

"You could hear rocks hitting the side of the cage where the air was blowing them up the shaft," he said.

Passageway

About 9 a.m. Friday the first bodies were found. The two victims were in a main passageway about 1½ miles from the foot of the mine shaft.

Some 30 minutes later a third body was located further down the corridor.

Officials said they believe the men suffocated. There was no evidence of fire.

Rescue crews wearing gas masks then came upon 11

Georgia's Progress Is Praised

Atlanta (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, visiting Atlanta on Confederate Memorial Day, praised progress made in Georgia and the South in solving civil rights problems.

He said progress had been made in desegregating schools, transportation and other public facilities in many sections during the past few years and "we are on the right road now."

He urged that moderates throughout the country work together to prevent a rise in extremism on both sides of the racial issue.

Kennedy answered questions at a news conference after a breakfast engagement with Gov. Carl E. Sanders. Kennedy told Sanders Georgia has demonstrated it can handle its own problems and if that continues the state needs "no interference from the federal government."

The attorney general told newsmen he has no plans for offering for the presidency, the vice presidency or as a candidate for governor of Massachusetts.

Asked for comment on the possibility of a revolt by some Southern states against his party, Kennedy said the chances of Alabama and Mississippi going for President John F. Kennedy in 1964 are dim.

Commenting on Georgia, which has always voted Democratic, Kennedy said, "the state of Georgia has always shown great wisdom."

Manned Moon Shot By U.S. Technological Leaf-Raking'

Washington (UPI) — A leading scientist took issue Friday night with vast spending to land men on the moon. He said science is being used as a front for new-style work-relief projects designed to bolster the U.S. economy.

The question whether science can "maintain its ethical standards and vitality" in view of the huge sums being pressed upon it was raised by Dr. Philip H. Abelson in a talk at the University of Maryland in suburban College Park.

A noted physical chemist, Abelson is director of the geophysics laboratory of the Carnegie Institution and editor of "Science," the magazine of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

His remarks pointed up uneasiness in a section of the scientific community over the huge space program, with its proposed budget of $5.7 billion for the next fiscal year alone.

Abelson recalled recent remarks by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, head of the government's space council. Johnson said space research is starting an "historic new boom" on earth, creating new industries, new jobs, new products.

"What we are witnessing," Abelson said, "is the expansion of a new sophisticated form of the pre-war public works administration. Science is being used increasingly as a front for technological leaf-raking."

"The public is being taxed at fairly high rates. It is very doubtful today if old-fashioned public works would be politically feasible. The manned lunar project can be advocated and sold on a basis which is rather difficult for the average citizen to evaluate.

General Awe

"In the present climate of international relations and in view of the general awe that is felt toward science, the ordinary man feels he has no resource but to go along with national leadership."

Abelson, of course, is not opposed to space exploration. What he does question is the expenditure of great sums—$20 billion more or less—to land men on the moon in this decade.

He suggests that stress be laid first on exploration of the moon by unmanned craft and electronic gear. This, he says, would be far cheaper.

"Unmanned exploration," he wrote in a lead editorial of the last issue of "Science," "could provide the basis for realistic design of manned landing craft, thus decreasing the total costs and increasing the chance of success."

Rev. King, 11 Ministers Sentenced

Birmingham, Ala. (UPI) — Eleven ministers, including the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., were sentenced to 5 days in jail and fined $50 each Friday for defying a state injunction against racial demonstrations.

Jack Greenberg of New York, attorney for the defendants, said the case would be taken to the Alabama supreme court and, if necessary, to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Circuit Judge W. A. Jenkins Jr. found King and the other Negro desegregation leaders in contempt of his court. He ordered their sentences to begin May 16.

The ministers could not be reached immediately for comment on what effect the decision might have on the integration campaign they began April 3, one day after segregationist city commissioner Eugene Connor lost to Albert Boutwell for mayor in a change-of-government election.

Jenkins issued an injunction April 10 banning such forms of racial activity as sit-ins, kneel-ins and marches. Two days later King, the Rev. Dr. Ralph B. Abernathy and the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth were arrested while leading a protest march. They were charged in city court with parading without a permit.

The militia sergeant shot and killed at least two motorists driving past the home of Duvalier's guard chief, Col. Jacques Gracia. In a residential section, militiamen poured gunfire into the home of a suspected army officer.

The sergeant guarding the colonel's home threatened to shoot other motorists unless they cleared the street.

A heavily armed guard later escorted the Duvalier children to the palace from the school, the Methodist Bardi College. They have been attending the college since Duvalier feuded with the Roman Catholic church and withdrew the children from a Catholic school.

Omahan Says Plastic From Sub Not Burned

... LUBRICANT CAUSED DARK SPOTS

Portsmouth, N.H. — A nuclear expert Friday disputed testimony of a prior witness that plastic found in the area where the submarine Thresher sank appeared flame charred.

Navy Capt. John J. Hinckley of Omaha, Neb., said dark areas on the plastic were caused by a lubricant.

Hinckley, nuclear power supervisor at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard since August 1959, agreed the 16-inch square piece of plastic was the same type used on the Thresher which went to the bottom April 10 with 129 men.

Last Saturday Frederick L. Downs, yard chemist, testified before a Naval court of inquiry chemical tests indicated marks of the plastic were from a rush of flame.

Downs had said the plastic was of the same type used on the Thresher.

Hinckley brought into the inquiry — which was opened briefly while he testified — a similarly sized piece of plastic which had been machined.

He said that when holes are drilled for piping a lubricant with heavy concentrations of graphite and carbon is used.

If it came from the Thresher it was installed 3 or more years ago and had a good salt water bath before we picked it up."

Hinckley had appeared before the court in private session.

After he testified Friday the inquiry again was closed.

A spokesman said it probably would conduct closed sessions Saturday.

Bathyscaphe Arrives

Meanwhile the odd shaped bathyscaphe Trieste capable of going 37,500 feet deep in the ocean arrived in Boston from San Diego and will be used in attempting to learn what happened to Thresher when she failed to resurface after a deep test dive.

Next Tuesday the bathyscaphe will make test dives at dockside in Boston.

The next day she will be towed 54 miles to sea for a test drop in 600 feet of water.

Trieste then will return to Boston to remain until the search force 220 miles east of the coast locates Thresher or determines where a detailed search should be made.

The oceanographic research vessel Atlantis II and other craft are in the area where Thresher went down.

Atlantis reported Thursday she had made pictures some 8,400 feet deep but the results were reported unknown by the Navy.

Officers found a pistol believed used in the shooting beneath a tree at the north end of House of Bauer 25th and O. The weapon contained 9 cartridges two of which had been fired.

A coat and hat matching the description of the clothing worn by the gunman were found discarded a short distance from the liquor store.

A bottle of liquor believed the one purchased by the assailant was also found near the scene of the shooting.

Police gathered all the evidence to be checked later for fingerprints.

Captain Sawdon said As far as we're concerned, the case is closed.

James P. Baroch 3766 Washington, owner of the store said that he had told Neylon that the money should be banded over in case of a robbery.

I told him never to mess with one of them," Baroch said.

93 Missing

Baroch said that a money count showed $3 missing from the register.

Shortly after the time the gunman left the store foot patrolman James Goth observed a man walking east in the alley between O and N and 24th and 25th streets.

Goth followed the man, who began to run until the man got into a car on N between 24th and 25th.

Daughter, Dad Suffer Burns In House Fire

A father and his 17-month-old daughter suffered third-degree burns in a fire at their home Friday night.

Both were reported in fair condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital early Saturday morning with burns on 15 to 20 percent of their bodies.

The man, Lee Hendricks of 2926 Plymouth, was burned when he attempted to put out flames on the clothing of his infant daughter. According to police, Hendricks told them the little girl was playing with a newspaper that caught fire from the fireplace.

The fire spread to her clothes. In his efforts to extinguish her clothes, his caught fire. Hendricks then grabbed a tablecloth and other items to smother the flames on his clothing.

No damage was reported to the home. The Hendricks' reported the injuries themselves to the police, who called an ambulance. Hendricks' wife witnessed the mishap in the Hinckley told the court he could not say there are clear indications the plastic came from Thresher. He would say only that it was similar to material used in the submarine's construction here 3 years ago and that it was the same type used to shield the sub's nuclear reactor.

Asked to explain why spots on the plastic he brought to the hearing were darker than those on the piece found at sea, Hinckley responded:

A coat and hat matching the description of the clothing worn by the gunman were found discarded a short distance from the liquor store.

A bottle of liquor, believed the one purchased by the assailant, was also found near the scene of the shooting.

Police gathered all the evidence to be checked later for fingerprints.

Captain Sawdon said, "As far as we're concerned, the case is closed."

Daughter, Dad Suffer Burns In House Fire

A father and his 17-month-old daughter suffered third degree burns in a fire at their home Friday night.

Both were reported in fair condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital early Saturday morning with burns on 15 to 20 percent of their bodies.

The man, Lee Hendricks of 2926 Plymouth, was burned when he attempted to put out flames on the clothing of his infant daughter. According to police, Hendricks told them the little girl was playing with a newspaper that caught fire from the fireplace.

The fire spread to her clothes. In his efforts to extinguish her clothes, he caught fire. Hendricks then grabbed a tablecloth and other items to smother the flames on his clothing.

No damage was reported to the home. The Hendricks' reported the injuries themselves to the police, who called an ambulance. Hendricks' wife witnessed the mishap in the home.

KANSAS: For the 5 day period Saturday through Wednesday temperatures will average near to slightly above normal in the western portions and 5 to 10 degrees above normal in the eastern. Cool Sunday but warmer again Tuesday or Wednesday. Normal high 65 to 69. Normal low 40 northwest to 46 southeast. Precipitation will average little to none in the far western sectors and light to moderate elsewhere, occurring as scattered showers Saturday and again about Monday or Tuesday. Amounts generally less than .10 of an inch but locally up to .25 of an inch in the eastern sections.

Summary Of Conditions

For the 5 day period Saturday through Wednesday temperatures in southeastern Colorado should move to about north central or northeastern Nebraska by Saturday. A warm front appears to be forming out of the southwest Colorado and moving down to near Wichita Falls, Tex., and into central Louisiana.

As the low centers become a little better organized during the day Saturday, in the warm front, they will become more active and showers and scattered thunderstorms will be set off along the low as it moves across Nebraska, northern Missouri and Kansas. As the low gets moved into northeast Nebraska Saturday night, it should begin a northwesterly flow in eastern Nebraska section and bring about a little cooler air mass. Saturday night temperatures Saturday will be little different from Friday's temperatures.

Policeman Finds And Reports Fire

An off-duty policeman stopped by the Johnson Iron Works, 201 West O, to pick up his children's swing set and found the building apparently on fire.

Officer Rollie Woodrum called in a fire alarm. Firemen found that a horse trailer inside the building had blazed up from sparks on a recent weld and filled the shop with smoke.

The trailer was pulled outside the building and the fire put out. Firemen estimated damage to the trailer at between $50 and $100. Heavy smoke damage was done to the inside of the structure.

Don Wade, of Warrenton, Va., official judge representing the American Quarter Horse Association, had high praise for the entries.

Legalizing Dog Racing

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There are many interesting points to the proposal advanced to the floor of the Legislature this week for dog racing in Nebraska. For one thing, it is a gambling proposal and that makes it automatically subject to serious question. Many people will wonder just how far Nebraska wants to go in being what might be considered realistic. It may be realistic to provide outlets for the gambling urge in people but this doesn't make it right.

It is our opinion that dog racing in itself is of no value and that it contains a great deal of evil.

Weighing Two Sides

Certainly, it would be of no benefit and of infinite harm to those people who would gamble and lose money that was needed for essential living purposes. In this respect, it is the same as horse racing.

Weighed against that side of things is the fact that the dog proposal could provide the means of constructing the huge covered stadium between Lincoln and Omaha that has been suggested as a monument to Nebraska's 1967 centennial by former Gov. Val Peterson.

The idea of an all-weather covered stadium is one that has caught the fancy of many Nebraskans. This would be a major attraction for the state and provide a number of economic stimulators not now enjoyed by Nebraska. It would bring to the state many people and a host of activities that would otherwise never be found here and could greatly improve facilities for many athletic events.

Under the dog-racing proposal, however, it would appear that the stadium would be constructed, owned and operated by private investors. It was originally believed that it could be a publicly owned facility operated by the state such as is the case today with municipal auditoriums, etc. A private operation would materially change the outlook on uses and purposes of the stadium.

If Nebraskans can afford to gainble to such an extent that it would produce millions a year in tax income, they certainly could afford higher taxes in another form.

Racing Not The Answer

There is no logic whatsoever in standing against government spending and for dog racing as a means of raising taxes. Yet, dog racing will be proposed as the answer to the state's tax problems by many who are against an increase in the property tax or the adoption of either a sales or income tax. Nebraska would be a great deal better off and her people would save money if dog racing were forgotten and its possible income to the state provided by direct taxation.

The state would really have to admit to being in pretty bad shape if it had to find the answers to its problems in such escapes as dog racing. The proposal may have some surface appeal but it is a real answer to nothing.

Significant Victory

The administration's feed grain bill got the approval of the House by a low margin but quite significant vote. It now goes on to the Senate where final, favorable action is confidently expected.

With slight modifications the measure would extend for another two years the administration's original feed grain plan, expiring this year.

The victory constituted support in principle for an administration program which derives its merit from effecting a substantial decrease in the national surplus without serious detriment to agriculture's economic base. To those who believe a balanced and equitable farm economy cannot be devised until production and consumption are equalized, and the overhang of surplus is brought down to the dimensions of a rational reserve, the victory was a bright one.

It also dealt severe blows to the oppo-

Partisan Proposal Rejected

The legislature buried under a 34-8 vote the measure known as LB112 which proposed a referendum on the question of returning to a partisan legislature.

It was a decisive retort to a persistent minority which manages to get the proposal in one form or another in every legislative session and seems never to be daunted by firm rejections. The bill had but one fluttering bit of life when the Government and Military Affairs Committee initially decided by 4 to 3 to advance it to the floor. It later reversed itself and voted 5 to 2 to kill it. Efforts then to revive it on the floor resulted in the 34 to 8 coup de grace.

The consistency with which the senators, from one session to the next, reject the proposals, indicates that the majority prefer the liberty they now have, and have little desire to be brought to halter. They prefer to stand before their constituents on their own record than to try to explain to them at times why they had to subordinate their reasoned convictions to a dominant partisan minority.

It is a fact that there are several varieties of Democrats and Republicans, but a partisan controlled legislature means that all varieties must come to heel to the one element that may control the party organization.

The weakest position of the advocates of a partisan legislature lies in Nebraska experience itself. The state had a bicameral partisan legislature for years and got so sick of it that it welcomed the present unicameral, non-partisan method. The older form produced none of the panaceas or improvements now claimed by the restorationists. It will be hard to convince experienced and reflective Nebraskans that it is either wise or progressive to return to a practice that once before was so unsatisfactory that it provoked reform.

Also, there is the question of whether the dog racing that is proposed as a means to financing the stadium would be privately operated for a profit. To date, we have no profit-making gambling in Nebraska. The few forms of gambling such as horse racing and bingo that are now permitted must be under the sponsorship and jurisdiction of charitable, non-profit institutions such as Ak-Sar-Ben, veterans organizations, churches and others. It is highly doubtful that Nebraska would want to change this approach to the subject. Gambling under any form is bad enough but to permit it on a profit-making basis would definitely not be in harmony with the character of this state and its people.

The Uses Of X

From The Christian Science Monitor

The letter X, as in exit where many prefer it soft-boiled like eggs, refutes Sartre's notion that there is "No Exit." As every writer knows, one way out is to "X it out." Of course, what Sartre meant was that there may be no X-cape.

Remember when, in lurid news phototography, or movies about the metropolitan jungle, X used to "mark the spot?" The fashion of using it that way is hardly X-tant anymore. Macbeth still goes on singing, however, that he could X out the spot.

There are only a little more than three pages of words beginning with X in the Webster dictionary (phonetically there's no reason why we shouldn't spell it that way) and it would take closer research than most of us have time for to find many of them which are not pronounced as if they began with Z. One notable X-ception, Xeres, is pronounced Sherez and some others take off with an H, but not as in "old yer 'at!"

Having six sounds to its credit the letter has made a mark (X) for itself by coming into the modern alphabet from the Chalcidian and Ionic alphabets with two different sounds, via the Latin, where it also served the Romans as dispensers of ten, much as our own computers serve us as calculators in millions.

Much more could be said on the subject if space permitted. But if a writer tried to go further, he would run into whole phalanxes of editorial X's. Which reminds us that most other letters, except the ambivalent silent H's, G's, and so forth, are vehicles of sound that are silver. But a straightforward, well placed X is always worth its weight in gold.

Private Satellite Proves Headache

WASHINGTON — A good many senators are beginning to wonder whether they were right in rushing through Congress that Satellite Communications Corporation bill last summer, despite a Senate filibuster. It required a gag rule or "cloture," invoked for the first time in 35 years, to pass the satellite bill. Now some senators wish they had listened to the filibusters.

Two important developments have made them skeptical:

1 — All three satellites launched for the purpose of transmitting telephone, radio and TV messages around the world, have malfunctioned. At times they couldn't even be located. This is not a very reliable means of communication for a man who wants to make a phone call in a hurry or a TV program which has to go on the airways with split-second timing.

2 — It now develops that the private partners of Uncle Sam, led by AT&T, who were supposed to put money into the satellite corporation are reneging on the dough.

They have found that further research and experimentation is going to be expensive, want the government to ante up instead.

"I would think it would be somewhat hard to sell stock on a proposition where the public can put up all of the money and if the carriers like it, they can ante up a few pennies to go along," remarked Sen. Clint Anderson, D-N.M., in the Senate Space Committee hearings. He was referring to the reluctance of AT&T, Western Union, and other cable and telephone companies to invest in the satellite corporation which they originally lobbied so hard to get through Congress.

"I think they ought to be required to match, if they want to control it," said Anderson, who was one of those who helped break the filibuster against what some senators called a government giveaway to private corporations.

"If they do not want that, then turn it (the satellite corporation) back to the government," continued Anderson. "There are those members of the Senate who would like to see it turned back and I believe some in the House. I am not one of them and I have said so frankly."

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., also an early booster of the partnership between government and industry to develop the communications satellite, seemed unhappy over his baby. He cross-examined Bruce Sundum, one of the directors, at length as to why the private partners were not willing to pay their share of satellite research, but wanted the government to pay for it instead.

Demos Want More Party Strength

WASHINGTON — In the field of party politics, where he was expected to be strong, President Kennedy is in trouble. His counterattack on his critics at this week's press conference shows that he knows it.

Democrats seeking election in 1964, particularly those in the Senate class of 1958, want a big and continuing dose of partisanship served up to the voters by the administration from now to next November. If the President feels inhibited in this regard, they would settle, though grudgingly, for an aggressive, star-quality national committee management.

In a way this is reminiscent of the complaint Republicans leveled at President Eisenhower. They muttered that Eisenhower, personally secure, did nothing to halt the progressive deterioration of the party organization.

But Eisenhower's situation was different from Kennedy's. Eisenhower could count on Democratic cooperation. Kennedy can't.

Kennedy is a strong favorite for re-election, but he must consider that it matters deeply to his fortunes what kind of Congress returns with him in January, 1965. He is not doing well now with his legislation in a Congress having heavy Democratic majorities. If he is forced to begin his last term with a substantial reduction in those majorities, there is every reason to believe he will do worse.

The Kennedy set-up is partly at fault. The President has turned party politics over to a tightly held group of his own aides, including Kenneth O'Donnell, Lawrence O'Brien and others of the so-called "Irish Mafia." But these men have important tasks to do for the President — O'Donnell is appointments secretary, O'Brien is in charge of political liaison with Congress. They are not free for the daily chores of organization.

It has been said that the Kennedy political organization "really belongs to Bobby," and there is much to the observation that the attorney general set it up and ran it.

He can reflect that brother

Jack is probably home free next time, but both can be sure that the 1968 Democratic pressures will work the other way to reinforce the conservative bloc.

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

Frank Morrison has his work cut out for him.

LB220, the big public power bill which seeks to create a Nebraska Power Review Board with a ranging powers and duties, requires the governor to appoint 5 board members.

One must be an engineer; one Walton must be an attorney; a third is to be an accountant, and two are lay members.

But here is the stickler: "No person who is or who has within 4 years preceding his appointment been either a director, officer, or employee of any electric utility or an elective state of officer shall be eligible for membership on the board."

This body is charged with high responsibility in solving public power problems at the retail level and in preventing any new duplication of facilities, wholesale or retail.

Its duties are likely to increase in the years ahead.

The prohibition on persons directly connected with public power raises a real problem of finding board members with a genuine knowledge of this complex field.

Few people appointed by the governor will hold more power (and that's no pun).

Frank Morrison's task will not be easy.

To top it off, there was included a pamphlet from that Schwarz fellow.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Variety Of Temporary Jobs Open To Older Workers

By ROBERT PETERSON
The antipathy of employers toward job applicants past 40 is legendary. But temporary personnel firms, which are blossoming in cities everywhere, find that bosses have nothing against older workers as such — they're just wary of hiring them on a permanent basis.

By making them available on a temporary basis, thousands of companies have been induced to "rent" mature workers — and in countless cases have found them so satisfactory they have insisted on hiring them permanently.

"Companies tended to be hesitant about hiring someone past 40, figuring there must be something wrong with him if he's unemployed at that age," said Bill Oisten when I stopped to talk with this vigorous 43-year-old founder of temporary employment offices in 15 cities.

"But their apprehensions evaporate when they can hire him on a temporary basis from a firm such as ours which then bills the company for the actual hours involved."

Does this really generate more employment for folks past 40? "Indeed it does," he said, "for the simple reason that the usual age barriers a person encounters when he seeks permanent work just don't exist when he's working temporarily."

What kinds of workers are available through temporary employment suppliers? "All kinds," he replied. "We even have a management division specializing in executive and professional personnel. An unemployed but experienced sales manager or advertising executive in his 40's, 50's, or 60's can register with us and we'll notify firms of his availability. You'd be surprised how many companies need top level help for short periods in launching new products and programs."

What if a firm decides they'd like to hire the temporary employee on a permanent basis? "That often happens," he replied, "and it's all right with us. All they have to do is pay us a finder's fee."

I told him I'd heard that companies with policies requiring all personnel to retire at 65 can retain certain key employees beyond that age by using temporary personnel techniques.

"That's right. All a firm has to do is send the retired man to us. We put him on our payroll and then assign him back to the firm. In this way the company does not disturb its mandatory retirement plan — yet it continues to enjoy the man's services. We simply bill the company what they want to pay the man plus our fee."

The concept of temporary employment pulses with possibilities. Not only does it enhance job chances for mature workers, but it appears destined to play a great role in the automated world to come. Firms of the future will likely find that a rising percentage of labor needs can be met by using skills drawn as required from pools of workers available to the business community as a whole.

Meet Star Carrier Bruce Vires

Bruce Vires, the Star Carrier in Nelson, Nebraska, has done an outstanding job on his newspaper route. He attends the Christian Church and is very active in church activities. Bruce is very interested in all sports and likes anything connected with the outdoors.

One of his outstanding achievements in the past year was working for and receiving the Boy Scout God and Country Award. This is the highest scouting award available.

The God and Country Award is the church's way of recognizing Boy Scouts who are doing their best to fulfill their obligation to the Scout Promise as follows: "On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my Country and to obey the Scout Law." The twelfth of the Scout Law is "A Scout is reverent; he is faithful to his religious duties." Bruce spent almost a year in close association with his pastor to achieve this outstanding award. This was the first God and Country Award given in the history of the Nelson community.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Vires, Bruce's parents, believe that his newspaper route has been of great value in the progress made by Bruce as he grows into manhood.

Any young man interested in carrying a Lincoln Star newspaper route should write to the State Carrier Department of the Lincoln Star in Lincoln 1, Nebraska.

Welfare Board Member Is Behind Medicare For Aged

By GERRY WRIGHT
Star Staff Writer

Speaking in support of a medicare program for the aged, a member of the New York Welfare advisory board said Friday, "I can see no other way we can attack increasing costs in medical care for the aged."

Miss Jane Howey, a native Nebraska now of New York City, told members of the Nebraska Welfare Assn. that a medicare program under social security "would spread the risk among all workers and employers as in old age assistance."

She said that it is impossible to talk about the proposal of President Kennedy rationally because "doctors are so opposed to the program."

In discussing the matter with her physician friends, Miss Howey said she reminds them that there are two persons to consider in medical care — "the patients as well as the doctors."

Criticizes State

She criticized Nebraska's policy of setting maximums on welfare aid, noting that most states do not.

"I have found nothing to take the place of money," she said.

Blair Clergyman Vice President Of Lutheran Church

Sedalia, Mo. (AP) — The Rev. James Olsen of Blair, Neb., was named vice president, and Victor Dogevoets of Ilion, Neb., was elected treasurer of American Lutheran Church.

The 5-state convention concluded here after election of officers that also included naming of Dr. E. G. Frisbie of Denver, Colo., as president.

A budget of $51,851 was adopted for the next fiscal year.

About 700 delegates attended the convention, representing congregations in Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Illinois.

said, "and it is necessary to provide adequate assistance and services to people in need."

Miss Howey suggested that Nebraska undertake a program such as New York has in which more volunteers are enlisted to alleviate the staff problem resulting from lack of funds to pay adequate salaries.

"I'm amazed at the number of people from Nebraska I meet in other places where they are better paid than in this state," she said.

Baker Elected

Harold Baker, executive director of the Lincoln Community Council, was elected president of the Nebraska Welfare Assn. at its 66th annual conference.

Other new officers are:

Dan Macdonald, executive director of the United Community Services in Omaha, first vice-president; Mrs. Clara Muir, director of county welfare in Fremont, second vice-president; Mrs. Dorothy Ogden, executive secretary of the Tuberculosis Assn. in Lincoln, secretary, and Carl Keig, director of county welfare at Grand Island, treasurer.

Lancaster County Juvenile Court Judge W. W. Nueenberger was named the outstanding leader in welfare work.

He was cited for his outstanding work with youth, service on the Governor's Committee on Children and Youth, work with the Welfare Assn. as well as his duties as juvenile judge.

The annual Topper Award was presented NWA Chapter II which represents the southeast counties of Nebraska, for the highest percentage increase in membership in the state association.

Welfare Board Member Is Behind Medicare For Aged

By GERRY WRIGHT
Star Staff Writer

Speaking in support of a medicare program for the aged, a member of the New York Welfare advisory board said Friday, "I can see no other way we can attack increasing costs in medical care for the aged."

Miss Jane Howey, a native Nebraskan now of New York City, told members of the Nebraska Welfare Assn. that a medicare program under social security "would spread the risk among all workers and employers as in old age assistance."

She said that it is impossible to talk about the proposal of President Kennedy rationally because "doctors are so opposed to the program."

In discussing the matter

with her physician friends, Miss Howey said she reminds them that there are two persons to consider in medical care — "the patients as well as the doctors."

Criticizes State

She criticized Nebraska's policy of setting maximums on welfare aid, noting that most states do not.

"I have found nothing to take the place of money," she

Ask JFK To Put Teeth Into His Housing Order

Washington (P) — Civil rights leaders challenged President Kennedy Friday to put teeth into his anti-bias housing order with able men, money and White House push to put it across.

They said lax federal enforcement of the order had proved to be little more than a sop for people in the north and South who "want discrimination conditions left unchanged."

Clarence Mitchell, Washington director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, led the attack on the order which he said was "first hashed up, then watered down and finally issued (Nov. 20, 1962) in an apologetic manner."

Ineffective'

In criticizing what he called the "ineffective posture" taken by the White House, Mitchell was joined by officials of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), the National Urban League and Algernon D. Black, board chairman of the National Committee against Discrimination in Housing.

Black said at a joint news conference of the organizations that Kennedy had launched "a glacial movement against discrimination rather than the rapid movement required by the tempo of the times."

The group issued a statement deplored enforcement which it said has been so lax "that neither the broad spirit nor the limited letter of the

Supreme Court Reverses School District Reorganization Decision

The State Supreme Court Friday reversed the Saline County District Court in litigation growing out of efforts to attach three grade school districts in Lancaster County to the Crete School District. Reversal was ordered on grounds the plaintiffs in error, who took the case to court, failed to appeal within the one-month period allowed by law.

The Supreme Court directed the district court to dismiss the petitions in error.

The effect of the Supreme Court decision is to keep the Lancaster County districts from becoming part of the Crete District.

Residents of Class I School Districts 11, 72 and 158 in Lancaster County signed petitions seeking merger with Saline County District No. 2, a Class III school district at Crete.

Lancaster County School Supt Glenn E. Turner held the petitions to be invalid and insufficient and refused to sign an order dissolving the districts. But Supt Dewey A. Ganzel of Saline County approved the petitions and ordered the consolidation.

Residents of the districts then brought suit against Turner and others, asking that the petitions be declared valid and sufficient and that the reorganization be ordered. They won the case in district court, but lost the appeal in the Supreme Court Friday.

In other rulings Friday the court affirmed the judgment of the Lancaster County District Court in an oil well tax case.

The H.L. Co. had contested in district court the valuation placed on a tract of land it owns in Lancaster County by the county assessor in 1959 for tax purposes.

The total assessed value of the two tracts as determined by the county assessor was $113,010. The district court rejected the first tax assessment, but let the second one stand, the effect being to reduce the combined assessed valuation to $27,044.

The Supreme Court, however, upheld the tax assessment, claiming the valuation was too high. The Supreme Court dismissed the contention of the company that the valuation of the tracts was based on the same basis as other land in the area.

Upheaval in the power supply to the Lancaster County community again came out of a fire in an Ordnance department store.

The action was brought by the Lancaster County Electric Utility Commission against Maxim's of Nebraska Inc., a subsidiary of Maxim's of Omaha.

Maxim's insurance company started a suit against Maxim's of Nebraska to recover its insured loss in the Herkimer Dam fire. It sought to limit its recovery to the amount of employees of Maxim's of Nebraska.

The insurance firm asked the court to place a hold on payment on account the Maxim's of Nebraska from the Herkimer Dam fire.

Affirmed the judgment of the Buffalo County District Court in a litigation of life estate of a attorney's son.

The attorney's son, which he had been awarded by his son, John H. Dryden, John H. Johnson attorney, was a factor in a court's decision to limit the scope of the court's jurisdiction by so doing.

The district court sustained the motion of Dryden and dismissed the jurisdictional objection to M. Bullock, Sr., who had an interest in the estate from the beginning of the litigation.

In concurring with the divided court on the attorney's son's Supreme Court

It is a general rule that where no attorney permits a creditor's lien to attach to the property of his client without disclosure to his client, he will not ordinarily be permitted subsequently to assert a claim to the prejudice of such client where, to his knowledge, he believed that such a claim did not exist."

Havelock Festival Honors Don Fagan Family

The Havelock Farmers and Businessmen Spring Festival crowned its queen and honored a farm family in county fair fashion Friday night.

Pat Schmadeke, University of Nebraska sophomore from Lincoln, was named queen of the 57th annual event.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Fagan and their 3 young daughters were selected from 16 nominated families as the honor farm family by Havelock businessmen.

The royal party will be featured in a parade Saturday.

The Festival, officially opened Friday morning, offers exhibits and displays, carnival rides and 4-H livestock judging in a spring county fair atmosphere.

Sunday afternoon Lincoln Mayor Del Tyrrell will deliver a dedication speech for the opening of the new Havelock swimming pool.

The dedication will be followed by a horse show at Ballard Field.

An estimated 250 people sat through intermittent rain to view Friday night's beauty pageant. Contestants performed various talents before final appraisal in evening gowns.

Runners-ups to Miss Schmadeke were Carolyn Kallred, Lincoln Southeast High School senior, and Sharon Kay Louderback, Northeast High School senior.

According to John Hobbs, General Chairman of the Festival, the annual 3-day affair has become a traditional promotion of unity between Havelock businessmen and Lincoln land farmers.

Exhibit winners in food and sewing competition named Friday are:

FIDEL VISITS SOVIET

Moscow (R) — Cuba's Fidel Castro arrived in the Soviet Union Saturday, the Tass news agency reported, for his first meeting with Premier Khrushchev since their initial embrace and handshake at New York in the fall of 1960.

Castro's visit had been heralded, but the timing was a surprise.

Tass said he was greeted at an airfield in the north by a delegation including First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

Mikoyan last saw Castro on a mission to Havana, via the United States, during the crisis last autumn over Soviet missiles in Cuba.

Tass said Castro would arrive in Moscow Sunday for the face-to-face meeting with Khrushchev.

They headed their delegations to the 1960 United Nations General Assembly in New York and developed a public affinity. (This was the session at which Khrushchev attracted great attention for the shoe-pounding episode in the assembly chamber. The bearded Cuban made his first big splash by moving his big Cuban delegation from a Midtown Manhattan hotel to one in Harlem).

Castro's departure from Cuba was not learned there until late Friday, shortly before the Tass announcement of his arrival in the Soviet Union.

Mikoyan was on hand at Murmansk to greet Castro as he stepped from the big Soviet TU114 jet which flew him from Havana, Tass reported.

The party is traveling from Murmansk to Moscow by special train.

Castro is making a friendly visit at the invitation of Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Tass said.

Steel Price Increase Effect Slight

Washington (R) — Steel don't expect steel to act in a certain way and then to the rest of American industry to say well, that's it."

Chase said to make a precise determination of the impact of the steel increases it would be necessary to make a detailed study of cost and price structures within each steel-using industry.

"Some (producers) might even find the market so competitive that they must reduce prices, in which case they undoubtedly will have added incentives to use substitute materials wherever possible."

Combined with other goods, Chase said, the steel increases would amount to an increase of about .7% in the wholesale iron and steel index, and about .3% in the index of wholesale prices for metals and metal products.

And tacked directly onto the prices charged for finished products, Chase added, the steel increases would not affect the over-all consumer price index by more than a fraction of one tenth of one percent, too small to appear in the Index figures published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Havelock Festival Honors Don Fagan Family

The Havelock Farmers and Businessmen Spring Festival crowned its queen and honored a farm family in county fair fashion Friday night.

Pat Schmadeke, University of Nebraska sophomore from Lincoln, was named queen of the 57th annual event.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Fagan and their 3 young daughters were selected from 16 nominated families as the honor farm family by Havelock businessmen.

The royal party will be featured in a parade Saturday.

The Festival, officially opened Friday morning, offers exhibits and displays, carnival rides and 4-H livestock judging in a spring county fair atmosphere.

Sunday afternoon Lincoln Mayor Del Tyrrell will deliver a dedication speech for the opening of the new Havelock swimming pool.

The dedication will be followed by a horse show at Ballard Field.

An estimated 250 people sat through intermittent rain to view Friday night's beauty pageant. Contestants performed various talents before final appraisal in evening gowns.

Runner-ups to Miss Schmadeke were Carolyn Kaltred, Lincoln Southeast High School senior, and Sharon Kay Loudenback, Northeast High School senior.

According to John Hobbs, General Chairman of the Festival, the annual 3-day affair has become a traditional promotion of unity between Havelock businessmen and Lincoln land farmers.

Exhibit winners in food and sewing competition named Friday are:

But Sen. William E. Proxmire, D-Wis., pointed out that steel prices are only one factor considered by manufacturers in setting their prices.

"Isn't it true that the effect would be several multiples of this?" he asked. "You

Steel Price Increase Effect Slight

Washington (AP) — Steel price increases posted this spring might add $10 to the cost of an automobile, and 50 cents to that of a refrigerator, a labor expert told investigating congressmen Friday. Generally, he discounted as very small the over-all effect on consumer prices.

But Arnold E. Chase said the impact of the steel increases on retail prices could not be figured accurately yet. He said the boosts might be absorbed by some manufacturers, but could lead to more sizable retail price hikes in other industries.

"Some (producers) might even find the market so competitive that they must reduce prices, in which case they undoubtedly will have added incentives to use substitute materials wherever possible."

Combined with other goods, Chase said, the steel increases would amount to an increase of about .7% in the wholesale iron and steel index, and about .3% in the index of wholesale prices for metals and metal products.

Ag College Name Change Advanced

The Legislature Friday tentatively approved changing the name of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture to "College of Agriculture and Home Economics."

Advanced without dissent from general file was the name changing measure, LB421, principally introduced by Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly.

Backers said the new name would more correctly reflect the activities of the college and give deserved recognition to the institution's home economics activities.

Other bills advanced from general file Friday included:

LB304 — Authorizing the director of Nebraska Resources to coordinate all state and private development efforts.

LB305 — Authorizing deputy city attorney to prosecute certain misdemeanor offenders and removing a limit on salary which school district may pay in such double duty cases.

LB307 — Authorizing the transfer of funds of cemetery districts organized under a law which has been held unconstitutional.

LB320—Clarifying the language of Nebraska National Guard law to conform with federal requirements.

LB321—Providing for the establishment of community organizations in each county and municipality except that in villages, such organizations shall be optional.

LB324—Removing limitations on the authority of cities to regulate paving, curbing, outer or hard surface of a highway lying within the corporate limits of cities and villages.

LB325—Clarifying conditions under which multiple improvement districts may legally be awarded to cities and villages.

LB349—Providing that financial records of school districts be examined annually by public accountants.

Campus circles will have particular interest this morning in the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. M. W. McBride of Hastings, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Judy, to Michael Petersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Petersen of Omaha.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, July 6.

Miss McBride is a sophomore in the College of Pharmacy at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Delta sorority.

Mr. Peterson also is a sophomore in the College of Pharmacy at the University.

In prenuptial courtesy to Miss Ruth Anne Read and John Weaver, whose marriage will be solemnized this evening at Holy Trinity Church, Episcopal, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Read, and Mr. Weaver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Weaver, Jr., presided at a prenuptial dinner on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver. Only the members of the families and the bridal party attended the dinner which followed the wedding rehearsal.

FUN NEWS IN SUBURBIA

MEADOW LANE

With the close of another month just around the corner, Suburban residents seem just as busy as ever. It seems most likely that the month of April is to be shown out with much Suburban pomp and ceremony, or perhaps it's only that residents are extending the red carpet to the month of May.

Whatever the case may be, Meadow Lanes residents are no exception, for these busy people are sporting tightly packed social calendars these days.

Off to Omaha for the weekend and a family reunion are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Conway and their children Denise, Mike, and Kathleen. It's to be a gathering of Mr. Conway's family members, and his sister, Miss Dorothy Conway is to be the group's hostess in Omaha.

Several members of the Conway family are to be in Omaha for the festivities on Saturday and Sunday, and her regular monthly eight-some.

A special guest this month at the Rodzielski home was Mrs. O. D. Hubert who played in the place of one of the club's regular members. "Regulars" attending were Mrs. Eldon Heskett, Mrs. Darrell Herman, Mrs. Bob Staberg, Mrs. Leon Overbeck, Mrs. Art Whisenand, and Mrs. Marvin Kellie.

More bridge is to be played this evening in the neighborhood, and this time Mr. and Mrs. Don Burzaff will be the host and hostess who will be entertaining several of their neighbors at a monthly gathering of a Meadow Lane couples bridge group.

Guests for the dessert followed by an evening of card playing are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kruger, Mr. and Mrs. John Millet, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hazard, Mr. and Mrs. William Case, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mather.

And a family party at the Kaelin home means quite a celebration, for Bonnie had sisters Debbie, Dixie, Diane, and Denise, and brother Douglas to share in the festivities.

Thursday arrivals at the Larry Sandburg home this week were Mr. Sandburg's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Dahmke, of Long Beach, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Dahmke will be spending a month with Mr. and Mrs. Sandburg and their children, Billie and Kathy.

It's doubtful that Suburbia could ever last a week without a night of bridge, and Meadow Lane's obliging hostess this Thursday evening was Mrs. James J. Rodzielski, who entertained

FUN NEWS IN SUBURBIA

MEADOW LANE

With the close of another month just around the corner, Suburban residents seem just as busy as ever. It seems most likely that the month of April is to be shown out with much Suburban pomp and ceremony, or perhaps it's only that the residents are extending the red carpet to the month of May.

Whatever the case may be, Meadow Lanes residents are no exception, for these busy people are sporting tightly packed social calendars these days.

Off to Omaha for the weekend and a family reunion are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Conway and their children Denise, Mike, and Kathleen. It's to be a gathering of Mr. Conway's family members, and his sister, Miss Dorothy Conway is to be the group's hostess in Omaha.

It was birthday time last Monday at the Donald Kaelin home when Mr. and Mrs. Kaelin's son, Donnie, celebrated his 10th anniversary by going out to dinner with his parents and sisters and brother.

And a family party at the Kaelin home means quite a celebration, for Donnie had sisters Debbie, Dixie, Diane, and Denise, and brother Douglas to share in the festivities.

Several members of the Conway family are to be in Omaha for the festivities on Saturday and Sunday, and her regular monthly eight-some.

A special guest this month at the Rodzielski home was Mrs. O. D. Hulbert who played in the place of one of the club's regular members. "Regulars" attending were Mrs. Eldon Heskett, Mrs. Darrell Herman, Mrs. Bob Staberg, Mrs. Leon Overbeck, Mrs. Art Whisenand, and Mrs. Marvin Kel-le.

More bridge is to be played this evening in the neighborhood, and this time Mr. and Mrs. Don Burzlaff will be the host and hostess who will be entertaining several of their neighbors at a monthly gathering of a Meadow Lane couples bridge group.

Guests for the dessert followed by an evening of card-playing are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kruger, Mr. and Mrs. John Millet, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hazard, Mr. and Mrs. William Case, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mather.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark spent Friday, Saturday, and Sunday in Lincoln and then returned to their home in Geneva.

Auxiliary To Meet

The annual spring meeting of the Nebraska Dental Auxiliary will be held in Lincoln on Monday and Tuesday during the state convention of the Nebraska Dental Society.

Registration and a coffee hour will begin at 9 o'clock Monday morning on the mezzanine of the Hotel Cornhusker, and Monday afternoon, the members will be the guests of Mrs. Earl Lampshire at a 2 o'clock tea at her home.

Dinner on Monday evening at the University Club will be followed by a card party.

The auxiliary's business meeting will be held Tuesday night at the University Club.

Mrs. James Weesner and Mrs. Lampshire are convention co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Ress and Mrs. Earl Brown, hospitality; Mrs. Don Edwards, and Mrs. John A. Klein of Omaha, registration; Mrs. J. E. Chapin, Omaha, nominating;

Mrs. B. J. Moran and Mrs. F. A. Pierson, Jr., tea; Mrs. R. F. Krejci, Mrs. Duane Hunt, dinner; Mrs. G. G. Pejsar and Mrs. Larry McKee, luncheon.

A Wedding In June

This morning Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kliener make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ann Louise, to John Ferguson, son of Mrs. Fred Rhyner of Beloit, Wis.

The wedding is planned for Sunday, June 16, and

Dear Abby

She's Earned Trust

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We are parents of a 16-year-old daughter who thinks we are being too strict with her. She told us she is embarrassed before her friends because the rules we have imposed on her make it appear that we don't "trust" her. We love this child, and we don't want any harm to come to her. She is physically and spiritually beautiful and we want to keep her that way. She is a steady church-goer, honor student and is well-liked. We allow her to go to all school functions (if one of the parents drives), but she's not to go in cars with boys, or single date. She may have girl friends stay the night with her, but she isn't allowed to sleep away from home. Do you think we are too strict?

A MOTHER WHO DOES HER BEST

DEAR MOTHER: A responsible 16-year-old girl should be permitted to date and go in cars with boys, and even spend a night at a girl friend's home. I would say that she has earned your trust and will not disappoint you.

Hi, everyone! Here I am again to tell you of the happenings around Lincoln Northeast. First of all, I'll start with a sneak preview of the upcoming operaetta, "Carnival," presented by the LNE choir and orchestra.

"Carnival," which is still on Broadway, will be presented on May 2 for an afternoon matinee at 4:00 and on the evenings of May 3 and 4 at 7:30. Reserved seats are available by activity ticket or single admission.

The cast will present assembles for Charles Culler and Charles Dawes next week. They presented some previews for Robin Mackie on Wednesday.

Be sure to attend!

How about this for an alarm clock? Mrs. Frances Watterson, Lincoln Northeast's Dean of Girls, has a pet parakeet named Pepe. He has a vocabulary of more than 100 words. In the morning Pepe tells Mrs. Watterson, "Francis get dressed and go to school. She has had Pepe for three years.

Next Thursday is report card day which means that today is the last day of the twelve weeks. Only one more set of report cards to be handed out, and that will be on the last day of school. Only 23½ school days left for seniors and they're counting each day that goes by.

See you next week. Bye for now!

Watershed Priorities Assigned

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission announced Friday it has assigned priorities to 5 watershed projects for eligibility to receive planning assistance from the commission and Soil Conservation Service.

The projects, in order of their priority:

1. Medicine Creek (Frontier and Lincoln counties — 450,000 acres).

2. Corporation Gulch (Madison County — 3,112 acres).

3. 32 Mile (Adams County — 60,000 acres).

4. Stamford (Harlan County — 3,000 acres).

5. Mill Long-Moores (Washington County — 19,600 acres).

The commission said assistance for the projects will be awarded in the very near future.

In addition to this action, the commission also granted approvals to the following Public Law 566 watershed projects:

1. Brule (Keith County — 7,800 acres).

2. Ash-Plum (Garden County — 18,100 acres).

Approval of these 3 projects means they ultimately will also be eligible to receive planning assistance as such technical assistance is available, the commission said.

Their approval also means that Nebraska now has a total of 62 P.L. 566 applications totaling 3,780,237 acres, or approximately 8% of the total acreage in Nebraska.

Additionally, the commission recommended approval of 5 watershed conservancy districts: Stamford, Mill Long, Moores Creek, Aowa and Clanton Creek.

The recommendations for approval now go to the local soil and water conservation districts, who in turn have the authority to now establish these watershed conservancy districts as legal sub-divisions of state government.

These districts have all the necessary authorities granted them under state law that will enable them to carry out their local watershed projects successfully.

The commission also approved the first draft of the work plan on the Little Blue Basin study, and soon will be issuing invitations to the following organizations to participate in the study:

Bureau of Reclamation; Corps of Engineers; Soil Conservation Service; Forest Service; Economic Research Service; Department of Water Resources; Conservation and Survey Division; Extension Service; Department of Health, and the State Game Commission. Educators Discuss Ways To Negotiate

Elementary school principals listened and discussed methods of using professional negotiations rather than bargaining tactics in their dealings with school boards and other administrators.

In a two-day conference at the Nebraska Center, some 100 educators heard National Education Assn. president, Mrs. Hazel Blanchard, call "professional negotiations simply a method of bringing boards of education, teachers and principals together, expressing views and taking those views into consideration in making decisions."

Mrs. Blanchard stressed that such methods are "far from new" in the present dealings of the 3 groups. She added that when an impasse in such negotiations occurred, a review board would be named to resolve it.

"This is a group effort, aimed at exchanging information and formulating programs," she stressed.

The educators also heard a panel discussion of "The Role of the Nebraska Elementary School Principal" by Dr. Marion Crannmore, president of the Department of Elementary School Principals; Mary Field Schwarz of the University of Nebraska department of elementary education, and Dr. William L. Pharis of the NU Teachers College.

A CONTRACT

A contract is a promise...a compact...an agreement between two or more persons. It simply binds the contracting parties to abide by the conditions set forth therein. It could be a marriage contract, or a business contract. It may be a contract with your church and your God. A contract is a serious piece of business. Do you fulfill the terms of the contracts you make? You promised to be true to your life partner until death. You signed to discharge your financial obligations on a certain date. You contracted to be a faithful member of your church...to attend regularly and support its work. Are you doing that? Do you honor your contract...your word? The integrity of your own soul determines the value of all the contracts you make. They are as good as you or as bad as you.

Church attendance will help you prove yourself worthy of the confidence of both man and God. Attend every worship service.

Character is by product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. 'You're in the church and the church is in you.' GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Ministers and Rabbis of This Area and Sponsors of This Page Invite You To Share In the Worship Services of Your Church or Synagogue. Pray, Work and Live for God.

WISHING WELL By William J. Miller

Here is a practical little game that will give you a puzzle every day. It is a number puzzle designed to fit in your minute. Count the letters in each word. If the sum of letters is 6 or more subtract 5 from the sum. If the result is 6 or less add 4. Start at the top left corner of the rectangle and check over one of your new numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked squares gives you. (Do not use the first letter.)

O'Hara Anchors Loyola To Drake Medley Mark

NU'S BROOKS 3RD IN BROAD JUMP

Des Moines, Iowa (W-Skinny) Tom O'Hara overcame a 50-yard deficit as anchorman and carried Loyola of Chicago to a record in the distance medley event of the 54th Drake Relays Friday.

The 130-pound Irishman with red hair, who has run a 3-minute, 59.2-second indoor mile this season, turned in a 4:02 1 on his mile anchor lap in beating Texas Southern's Major Adams by 30 yards.

Loyola's winning time of 9:50 erased the Drake record of 10:01.2 set by Texas Southern last year. In finishing second in 9:55.5 Friday, Texas Southern also was below its record, as was Emporia, Kan., State, which was 3rd in 9:56.5.

Stanford's 4-mile relay team of Harlan Andrews, Bill Pratt, Bob Miltz and Harry McCalla edged Western Michigan and Oregon State in a record 10:43.4. Western Michigan's old record was 10:50.4.

A record of 51.4 seconds in the 440-yard hurdles was set by Bill Washington of Central State Ohio in beating out Billy Hardin of Louisiana. The old mark was 52.1.

Southern Illinois' spring medley squad of Ed Houston, Al Pulliam, Jim Stewart and Bill Cornett dethroned Missouri with a 3:10.7 clocking. Missouri was second in 3:19.1 and Nebraska 4th.

The broad jump title went to Clinton Mayfield of Central State Ohio with a leap of 25 feet, 3½ inches with defending champion Bill Miller of McMurry, Tex., second and NU's Victor Brooks 3rd.

The meet, drawing 900 athletes from 83 colleges and universities, winds up Saturday with 20 more finals.

Photographer Went On Cuba Bomb Run

Washington (UPI) — Photogapher Alexander Rorke Jr. said Friday he took part in a bombing raid over Cuba last Thursday night. Havana radio reported Friday night that a plane dropped bombs near Havana but none exploded.

Rorke said in a speech before an anti-Communist meeting that while he filmed the scene, crewmen lighted home-made bombs with their cigarettes and dropped them into a refinery area near Havana.

The Havana radio report monitored by the Associated Press at Key West said a twin engine plane dropped a 100 pound bomb and some cans of inflammable liquid in the Nico Lopez area outside Havana at 10 p.m. Thursday night but none exploded. It said the plane came in low from the north.

The broadcast took note of US news reports of the raid and said the US government did nothing about it.

The time given by Havana radio checked closely with Rorke's report that he was over the target at 7:55 p.m. EST, which could have been 9:55 Havana time. Rorke did not claim any damage was done to the oil tanks at which the bombs were aimed but did claim the explosives went off.

It was believed here that the Nico Lopez referred to by Havana radio is the name of a refinery in the Havana suburb of Regelia, where oil installations are located.

The US policy is to discourage hit and run raids against Castro by Cuban refugees and prior to the Havana broadcast the State Department were skeptical of Rorke's report.

Photographer Went On Cuba Bomb Run

Washington (AP) — Photographer Alexander Rorke Jr. said Friday he took part in a bombing raid over Cuba a Thursday night. Havana radio reported Friday night that a plane dropped bombs near Havana but none exploded.

Rorke said in a speech before an anti-Communist meeting that while he filmed the scene, crewmen lighted homemade bombs with their cigars and dropped them into a refinery area near Havana.

The Havana radio report, monitored by the Associated Press at Key West, said a twin-engine plane dropped a 100-pound bomb and some cans of inflammable liquid in the Nico Lopez area outside Havana at 10 p.m. Thursday night but none exploded. It said the plane came in low from the north.

The broadcast took note of U.S. news reports of the raid and said the U.S. government did nothing about it.

Rusk To Call On Yugoslavia's Tito

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk left Friday night on a multi-purpose diplomatic mission including an unusual call on Yugoslavia's President Tito.

Also during his 10-day trip, timed for a meeting of the Central (Middle East) Treaty Organization in Karachi, Rusk plans to see Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru in India and leaders in Turkey and Iran.

His schedule includes an April 27 stop in Ankara, April 28 in Teheran, the April 30-May 1 CENTO parley in Karachi, May 2-3 in New Delhi and May 4-5 in Belgrade.

Rusk's Yugoslavia visit, the first by a U.S. secretary of state since John Foster Dulles saw Tito in 1955, was announced by the State Department shortly before his departure. The department described it as an official visit, at Yugoslav invitation, reciprocating the May 1962 trip by Yugoslav Foreign Secretary Koca Popovic.

Legislators Advance Higher Salaries For State Officials

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Friday handed first round approval to salary increases for governor, lieutenant governor, state engineer, the 7 judges of the State Supreme Court and the 35 district judges.

Increases were approved as recommended by the Salaries and Claims Committee.

Ten additional salary measures were left to be considered when the lawmakers adjourned for the weekend.

Advanced from general file were:

—LB516, boosting governor from $14,000 to $18,000 and lieutenant governor from $3,000 to $5,000. Vote was 27-6.

—LB480, hiking state engineer from $13,500 to $17,000.

and providing no term of office. Vote was 21-6.

—LB23, increasing Supreme Court judges from $13,000 to $17,000 and District Court judges from $11,000 to $15,000. Vote was 22-6.

Total annual cost of the 3 bills would be $177,500.

Only effort to amend on the floor was defeated on a 14-18 count when Sen. T. C. Reeves of Central City attempted to scale down the District Court increases to $13,500.

Sen. George Fleming of Sidney suggested that consideration of salary bills was "well timed" in view of the fact that the state income tax bill is scheduled for debate on Monday.

Fleming said he is "convinced we will have to support a broadened tax base if we accept these kind of raises."

Fleming had indicated earlier that he would oppose the income tax proposal.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff urged the Legislature to accept all salary increases recommended by the committee.

Committee Chairman William Brandt of Unadilla said amendments to salary bills were considered within the perspective of a total view of all the proposals.

Egg Price Up
Milan, Italy, (AP)—The price of an egg on the Milan retail market hit 50 lire (8 cents) — exactly 1,000 times the price at the beginning of the century.

Sen. T. C. Reeves of Central City Friday pledged his strong opposition to a bill proposing a constitutional amendment to legalize pari-mutuel betting on dog racing in Nebraska.

Reeves' statement came shortly after the Revenue Committee reported out the bill, LB780, on a 5-1 count. The committee's action was taken late Thursday afternoon.

"Whenever you have gambling, you breed disrespect for the law," he said.

Carpenter estimated the bill would raise $5 million annually in new revenue for Nebraska.

But Reeves said, "when we have to turn to gambling to finance state government, then this state is in a pretty bad way."

Legislative Bills Introduced

Bills introduced in the Legislature Friday:

LB780 (Salaries and Claims Committee): Authorizing villages to levy special taxes for fire improvement, including such taxes to be above any levies limitation.

No Bills Passed By Solons

The Legislature passed no bills on final reading Friday, although two had been scheduled for the showdown.

LB26, abolishing the special .25 mill property tax levy for the University of Nebraska College of Medicine and University Hospital Building Fund, was laid over to Monday at the request of Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln.

Stromer said he wanted to check the bill's relation to new federal legislation affecting medical schools.

Deferred to May 10 was LB352, which directs the state public welfare director to set maximum payments which may be made for health services for assistance recipients, but specifies that payments to hospitals shall not be less than actual operating costs.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff told colleagues that hassles regularly develop at the county level over the amount of payments to health vendors. Some hospitals do not receive in payment the actual operating cost of handling assistance payments.

Payment at actual operating cost excluding depreciation and such factors would bring stability, he indicated.

Hospital interests have agreed to use certified public accountants to determine the operating costs, he said.

"I don't think," Reeves said, "legalizing gambling does anything positive for Nebraska and I intend to do everything within my power to kill this bill."

The freshman lawmaker said he thinks "any kind of gambling, legal as well as illegal, is morally wrong."

The bill, as amended by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, provides a minimum 6% tax on the total amount wagered and 50% on the track's breakage.

It is bad for Nebraska, Reeves said, "to rely on obtaining tax revenue from gambling sources and it down-grades the quality of our citizenry."

According to Reeves, legalized gambling renders "no services or goods to the people" and, "in my opinion, is not even constructive recreation."

The economic future of Nebraska has "been hurt" by pari-mutuel betting on horse racing, Reeves said, adding: "It takes money out of the state—money which could go to the betterment of our communities."

The dog racing question, if passed by the Legislature, would be submitted to the voters in 1964.

At the public hearing on the bill, sole opposition was registered by the Nebraska Council of Churches.

The Rev. Carroll Lemon of Lincoln, executive director of the council, charged dog racing is closely allied with syndicate gambling.

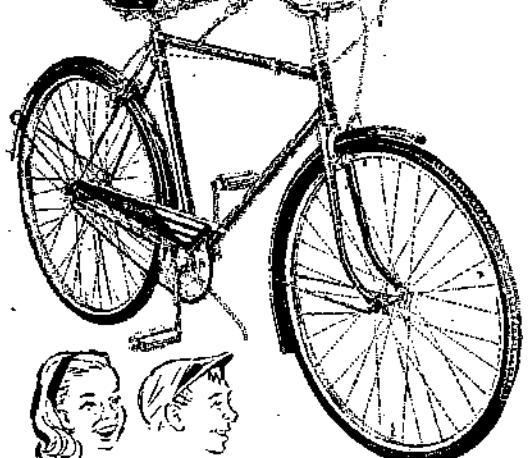

Reeves also held this view.
